

A Real Daughter of the Revolution.
Celebrates Her Ninety-Ninth Birthday.
Mrs. Hannah Fellows, who passes her 99th birthday today, has for the past 27 years been a resident of Waterford and of this town, making her home with her daughter, Mrs. Jason Barrett, on Pearl street. She is a real daughter of the Revolution, and a member of the St. John de Crevecoeur chapter, D. A. R., of this town and through them a member of the National Society.

Hannah Woodward was born in Chelsea, February 14, 1807, next the youngest daughter of Theodore and Mrs. Esther Stark Woodward, and is the only surviving member of the family. Her brothers were John, Hial, Calvin, and Henry, and she had one sister, Harriet; also two half sisters and one half brother. Her mother died when she was only nine years of age and she was taken in to the family of Samuel Perkins of Lime, N. H., where she lived until she was married, with the exception of five years which she spent with the family of Dr. Alden, at Hanover, N. H. On March 6, 1836, she was married at the home of Mr. Perkins at Lyme to Lyman Fellows, and they afterwards made their home at what is now called Victory, and at Concord. Six children were born to them, three sons and three daughters. The sons died in infancy, and of the daughters, Mrs. William Smith of East Concord died last July; Mrs. Susan Sutor lives at East Concord, and Mrs. Jason Barrett in this village. The great-grandchildren are five in number, children of Mrs. Osgood and Mrs. Adair. One would scarcely think Mrs. Fellows had lived so much more than the three score and ten years and it is a pleasure to meet her. Her eyesight is somewhat impaired, but her hearing is well and perfect, and she gets around the house every day with no assistance but occasional support from objects along her path. She suffered a shock about a year ago, since which time she has not been able to carry on lengthy conversation, but she shows no outward signs of her sickness.

She is today receiving calls from members of the local chapter, which presents her with a bouquet of flowers. She is the possessor of a gold sovereign spoon, a gift from the national society on her admission. Theodore Woodward, Mrs. Fellows' father, enlisted as a private in February, 1775 or '76 for nine months, and in February, 1781, for nine months. He also served three months as a corporal in 1781. He was under Captain Phelps, Lovell, Martin and Smith, and Col. Wait. His last term of service was not continuous, but consisted of various short tours on alarms. He resided in Fairlee at the time of his enlistment, but was not in battle at any time. He was a Mason, holding the highest office in the Lodge at that time. He was born in Kent, N. Y., in 1760. His wife was born in 1776 and died in 1816.

St. Johnsbury also boasts of another real daughter of the Revolution, in the person of Mrs. Sarah Tilden Hazen, who passed her 80th birthday on January 22, and so far as is known the St. Johnsbury chapter is the only one having more than one "real daughter" in their membership.

Meetings of Fifty Club.

The members of the Fifty Club met with Miss Abbie Thomas, Thursday afternoon, to remind her that she had reached another milestone on life's journey. Miss Thomas received several nice presents, among them a birthday cake, which was brought in blazing with candles. A dainty lunch was served by Miss Underwood and Mrs. Harriman, who assisted Miss Thomas in entertaining. Although a little out of the usual order of our gatherings all who were present pronounced it a most enjoyable afternoon.

On Saturday evening, Mrs. C. E. Gorham entertained the members of the Fifty Club and their husbands with a lunch party, which was much enjoyed by the jolly "young" people composing the club.

The Academy Concert.

Last Friday evening the Academy chorus made its first appearance in public at a concert which it gave in Music Hall. Owing to the inclemency of the weather a small attendance was expected, but the fame of the chorus must have spread abroad because the concert was enjoyed by a good sized and appreciative audience.

Each of the two glee clubs gave two selections; the girls' club rendered "Blow, Soft Winds" by Vincent, and "Ave Maria" by Abt; and the boys the two old college songs "Twas off the Blue Canary Isles" and "The Old Ark." The latter was a humorous piece and was spontaneously encored. Edward F. Brown sang the solo in this song and gave as the encore some exceedingly clever verses written by our local favorite, Frank O. French.

The large chorus sang Mendelssohn's "Farewell to the Forest," and Barnaby's "Sweet and Low."

A sextet of the soloists assisted by the two glee clubs gave a selection from Donizetti's "Lucia di Lammermoor."

Although this part of the program was of general excellence the greater interest centered in Cowan's cantata, "The Rose Maiden." The solo parts were well sustained by Mrs. Harry M. Cross, Mrs. Hubert W. Brooks, Harry W. Wakefield and Roy Gage. Harold French and W. B. Atwood also assisted in the sextet. The sincere and helpful interest of these soloists and their efficient work did much to make the concert a great success.

The director, Mr. Kingsley has been very successful and accomplished excellent results. The chorus followed him intelligently and attentively. The orchestration to the "Rose Maiden" is very effective and was well executed by Young's Orchestra. B. Frank Harris did good work at the piano, his accompaniments being sympathetic and satisfying.

A great deal of interest was shown in the excellent program, so well rendered and many requests from St. Johnsbury and elsewhere have been made for a repetition of this music. It has been decided to give a concert on one of the days of commencement week. As a general desire for a repetition of the cantata the "Rose Maiden" has been expressed, this with new numbers will form an attractive program.

Museum Notes.

Frank M. Chapman, curator in the American Museum of Natural History, New York City, who is to lecture here on the evening of March 23, has been making a special study of the flamingo for the last three years. He has made several trips to their breeding grounds in Florida and has watched the life of these birds very carefully. As the natural habitat of these birds is in a damp place,

Mr. Chapman has frequently pitched his tent in a swamp, and has waded in the morning to find the water in his camp three feet deep. Despite this and many other difficulties, Mr. Chapman has succeeded in getting a most remarkable collection of photographs which fully illustrate the life, nesting habits and growth of the young of these strange, bright plumaged birds. The lecture, which is under the auspices of the Fairbanks Museum, will be open to the public.

Mrs. Trull at Brattleboro.

One of the most pleasing features of gentlemen's night at the Brattleboro Woman's Club on the evening of Feb. 6, was the readings by Mrs. Jennie Cross Trull of Biddford, Me. Her musical readings were given with the assistance of Mrs. E. H. Crane, another St. Johnsbury lady, at the piano. Our readers will be interested in this excellent characterization of Mrs. Trull's work from the Brattleboro Pioneer:

"Mrs. Trull gave a varied program although the Canadian dialect selections, in which she excels, predominated. Those in the audience who are familiar with Gilbert Parker's tales of the French-Canadian people were gratified to hear that difficult dialect handled with the ease and accuracy possessed by Mrs. Trull. It is of interest to know that Mrs. Trull's love for and intimate acquaintance with the Canadian people began in childhood when she spent much time in Northern New York, very near the border line. Since her study in this particular line of work began, she has made frequent trips to Quebec, where she has had ample opportunity to know and to love the Canadian people. Mrs. Trull's personality is winning and her manner attractive, and at the close of the entertainment many went forward to meet her."

The annual meeting of this corporation was held Monday evening and these trustees elected: O. H. Henderson, C. J. Gillfillan of Barnet, H. W. Varum of Jeffersonville, Crawford Ranney, B. F. Brown of Lyndonville, H. M. Nelson and Dr. C. F. O. Tinker. The trustees elected these officers:

Pres. C. F. O. Tinker.
Vice Pres. C. J. Gillfillan.
Sec. O. H. Henderson.
Treas. and Agt. Crawford Ranney.
The property has been well rented throughout the year and the demand for renting the hall is steadily increasing. A dividend of 2 per cent. was declared upon the stock and a surplus left in the treasury.

Maynard-Barry Wedding.

On Wednesday evening, January 31, at Notre Dame church occurred the wedding of Ernest M. Maynard, the popular driver for the Summer street laundry, and Miss Georgianna Barry. The bride was gown in a blue suit, and was attended by her father, Napoleon Barry, and her brother, W. J. Barry of Hartford, Conn. A reception was held at their new home, 36 Clark avenue, where they were assisted in receiving by the bride's sister, Miss Olive, Mrs. Harry Russell and Mrs. Fred Howe. Refreshments were served and the numerous presents of silver, china, cut glass and linen were much admired.

Basket Ball.

In a very fast and rough game of basket ball at the Armory last Friday night Co. D were defeated by the score of 27 to 31, by the heavy Hanoverites. During the first part of the second period Co. D led the college boys 19 to 17. Beck threw several pretty baskets.

As Seen By Others.

People who now live in St. Johnsbury, and those who have lived here in former days, will be interested in the very readable article written by Mrs. Mary R. P. Hatch for the New England magazine for February. "St. Johnsbury, Vermont, and Its Industries," is the subject of the article. It treats of the beauties of the town, and the development of the scale industry, which has played so large a part in the town's history. The other industries of the town, its schools, public buildings and prominent citizens are entertainingly written of. Some very attractive illustrations combine to make this article of interest to all who have ever heard of St. Johnsbury and wish to know more about it.

CABOT.

Forty One Years of Masonry.

A. M. has just passed the forty first milestone of its masonic life. The Lodge received its charter from the Grand Lodge of Vermont, Jan. 12, 1865, signed by the late Leverett English, Grand Master, and Henry Clark, Grand Secretary. The were twelve charter members: A. P. Sprague, B. J. Lane, G. M. Webster, W. W. Lyford, Rufus Adams, J. M. Fisher, N. B. Rogers, G. W. Clark, Edwin Fisher, A. M. Ruggles, E. C. Smith, W. H. Fletcher. Of this number five are now living and all but one have passed the allotted time of man. The first officers and those that appear on the charter are: Rufus Adams, W. M. J. M. Fisher, S. W. A. F. Sprague, J. W. Of these one is now living.

The late Charles Heath was empowered to institute the Lodge and install the officers. This he did January 24, 1865. The organization was most bitterly opposed by the older men of the town many of whom had just passed through the Anti-Masonic crusade. The young men paid no attention, but attended strictly to their own business. In this way the Lodge in its 41 years, has become a strong working and prosperous institution.

There have been initiated into the order in these years 266 members, of this number 59 have been united to lodges, 32 have died, and 18 have been suspended. There are now 138 working members. The present officers of the lodge are: C. H. Dana, W. M. E. H. Thomas, S. W. E. C. Gould, J. W. George Gould, treasurer, E. D. Waldo, secretary, W. S. Ford, S. D. F. H. Osgood, J. D. E. H. Smith, S. S. P. A. Smith, J. S. H. Osgood, chaplain.

The Lodge received help in its work at the beginning from the lodges in Montpelier and St. Johnsbury. Brothers J. E. Emery, Dewey, and Col. Fred E. Smith of Montpelier, also John Bacon and C. E. Weeks of St. Johnsbury came frequently and gave valuable assistance until they saw the Lodge prosperous and in good working order. During the 41 years, as with all societies "some have passed to that better home whence no wanderer has ever yet returned." Others have gone and new members have come to take their places. All must admit that it has been an institution that has extended a good influence in the community, and may the towel be as freely used among the craft, and with as good success in years to come as it has in the 41 years just passed.

In 1892 a charter was granted and a chapter of the order of the Eastern Star was organized, known as Green Mountain Chapter, No. 35. This has been very prosperous and has a membership of 118. The first five officers of the chapter are: W. R. Marsh, W. P. P. Mrs. Jennie Rogers, W. M. Mrs. Jessie Smith, A. M. Miss Anna Gould, secretary; Mrs. J. Fisher, treasurer. The Masonic Hall is given for their use, and they in turn have refurnished it with beautiful furniture, within a short time. The Masonic pillars, chairs, desk and all the furniture are of the finest type, and very soon they intend to furnish a piano, a large banquet hall and a kitchen, furnished with all the articles necessary for use at a large banquet. The Masonic Lodge has a great reason to congratulate itself for this annex to their fraternity. Each lodge is in a prosperous condition, free from debt, and a snug sum is in each treasury.

WELLS RIVER.

A Night of Music.

Miss Adine D. Hale, with assisting artists from Montpelier and Woodville gave a song recital at the Congregational church, February 6. Miss Hale was in good voice. Her singing is characterized by a straightforward musical style, which is strengthened by a pleasing manner, perfect intonation and a good compass. Miss Hale is a pupil of Edward Gorham of Boston, and certainly has a bright future before her.

Miss Luvia E. Mann, the reader, was well received. Her voice is particularly good. She reads not over 20 things, nor are her readings too long. She is interesting and has dramatic force, as was clearly shown.

G. H. Wilder's pupil, Miss Blanche Kidder, and Mrs. G. H. Parker of Wells River were the pianists, Miss Kidder rendering a solo as an opening number, "The Florence waltz d' Concert" by Leblang. Her playing was recognized, as soon as her first notes were struck, as that of an artist. She has good technique and what is better a sympathetic touch. Her playing of The Frog Pond, by Seeböck, was a finished piece of work and the audience knew it. She was well applauded on both numbers. Mrs. Parker plays the piano well and showed an even, musical style in her accompaniment work. She is an exceptionally modest accompanist, who does not press the piano in front of the voice work as so many do.

Mr. Wilder's flute solo enchanted his audience as they always do. They were a revelation of false possibilities undreamed of by most people, and to say that he played in his usual style is sufficient.

The affair was a financial success, a musical treat, and a social gathering of the culture of Wells River and vicinity. Following is the program as rendered: Piano Solo, Florence, Waltz d' Concert. Leblang.

Miss Kidder, Op. 76, Dudley Buck Reading, Sombre. Miss Mann. Elliott.

Flute Solo, Selected. Mr. Wilder. Reading, The Mustard Plaster. Fielding.
